POLO, ANISE-SEED BAG HUNTS, LAWN TENNIS

AND DANCING-PERSONAL NOTES. Newport, R. I., Aug. 4 (Special).—The long-looked for menth is here at last and Newport is indeed getting lively. The cottagers are entertaining comstantly, and visitors are arriving at the private houses, though the cool weather is keeping expected hotel-visitors from coming in large numbers. August will doubtless be a gay month, and fashionable en-tortainments will follow each other with rapidity. There will be several private balls, one of which is expected to be a fancy dress, and no end of dinners luncheons and receptions. There will also be a few

The authorities have instructed the proprietors of the fashionable gambling house on Bath Road, known as Watson's, not to open their place this season. Watson's is a lively place during the summer, and small and large sums have been lost and won there. Big suppers are provided "free of cost." The place has, as far as is known, been kept in an orderly manner, but the authorities are determined, if possible, to stop gambling, even in high life. None of the townscople are ever permitted to visit the establishment. Its closing has created a mild sensation. The property, comprising a cottage and a large house, to gether with about one acre of land, is valuable. The establishment is open only during the height of the Judging from the attendance at the Casino dance this week, it would seem, to a stranger at least, that the society people were kindly disposed to these semiweekly diversions. The attendance on Monday night was the largest of the season and many pretty gowns The young people are numerous at the dances. Square dances are being introduced at the hops, and this innovation seems to "take." The old people like the square dances, and it seems to bring to mind the days that are gone. The at tendance at the Casino grounds and also at the Sunday night concerts is improving. All the lawn tennis courts are taken daily, and the court-tennis building and bowling alley are also having a few patrons Business in general is at last improving at the Casino and the governors are now well pleased.

The fox hounds have arrived and the first " meet" of the season will take place on Monday at the One-Mile Corner. Society will turn out to "do" the hunts and the scene at the start will be picturesque The hunts will prove a drawing card for the livery stable keepers, and in fact, for everybody who has borses and carriages to hire. Big prices will be charged for horseflesh. F. Gray Griswold will be the master of the hounds, and he will be assisted by Elliot Zhorowski. No foxes will be used.

Pelo continues to "draw." All the "crack" players have arrived and the great trouble now is to range matters so as to give all of them a fair show, on polo days, at least. The cup matches will take place the latter part of the month. The leading cottagers visit the polo grounds, and all of them are well satisfied with the programme presented by the Westchester Club. The games are played better this season than ever before, and consequently the interest in the sport is maintained.

THE LAST WEEK OF THE WILD WEST.

There will be only one more week of the Will West, the most picture-sque and truly National of our summer amusements. Since the last days were announced, people seem to be possessed of an ardent desire to attend the exhibition, and the crowds have been greater than ever. The general opinion is that it is too had to interrupt such unprecedented prosperity, but Philadelphia now claims what has been presided her a long time. Brooklyn, this city, Newark, and other places during the past ten days have sent thousands to Ernstina. It is probable that the next foreign trip of the Wild West will be to Peris. It seems to be the opinion of the managers that the entertainment would prove a great novely in France, and especially during the Exposition The triumph achieved in London and Manchester last sum mer, has led Colonel Coly and has partner, Mr. Salsbury, to incline favorably toward the proposition made from the gay capital, and in all probability the Wild West will become the next fad among the French. To-day will be the last Sunday for the inspection of the camp and t opertunity will be afforded for observing how the Indians, Mexican vaqueres and cowboys pass a Sabbath. Many interesting sights can be seen and a pleasant day spent. The sail down is both chesp and delightful.

BRILLIANT SARATOGA.

MANY GUESTS FROM MANY WALKS OF LIFE.

JAY GOULD'S VACATION-COMING POLITICAL CONVENTIONS-THE RACES. Saratoga, Aug. 4 (Special).—The cool days of July filled the proprietors of the hotels here with apprehensions that they were going to have a "bad season." Indeed, the small number of arrivals showed that many people in New-York and other cities on the scaboard thought that they were sufficiently comfortable at home, and did not think of starting for Saratoga, Newport or any other summer resort decided that they must have a change of air, even if the weather does continue to be cool. The tide of travel be-gan swelling a week ago and the latter part of this week it has assumed great proportions. In the vast dining-rooms of the hotels, which stretch out apparently for a mile or so, the little groups of people near the joined by so many other groups that to-day three-fourths of the space of the dining-rooms is occupied. An early comer into these abysmal halls sees before him seemingly regiment of servants, on guard in stiff attitude at the various tables, and if the guest is of a timerous dispe he hesitates before surrendering himself to the guidance of the head waiter.

There is a quiet, modestly dressed man of middle age, of slight stature, and with keen black eyes, black hair and black beard streaked with gray, who now occupies a seat at a table only a short distance from the door in the dining-room of the United States Hotel. He does not seem to desire to venture further into the cavernous not seem to desire to venture turner in the tar removed as depths of that manmoth dining room; but far removed as he is from the observation of the mass of the men, women and children in the room, he still does attract a great deal of attention and is evidently an object of are the members of his family: Mrs. Gould, Miss Helen M. Gould, Miss Anna Gould and Howard Gould. All these names are inscribed upon the register of the United States in Mr. Gould's neat handwriting, which has a decidedly nervous character and is a little quaver ing, as though he had written a great deal and his hand was rather tired. Mr. Gould has two cottages at the United States, Nos. 17 and 19. They are called tages," but they are mercy so many separate divisions of the hotel, and form part of the great structure, which is over 1,500 feet in length. The building, as is well known, incloses a large grassy court, having in its centre a music pageda. A broad plazza faces this green lawn, and Mr. Gould and his family apparently take great delight in resting themselves in chairs on the plazza outside of their cottages and listening to the music of the orchestra.

Mr. Gould looked rather haggard, as if he had been suffering from sieeplessness, produced by hot weather when he arrived here, but in a day or two he said to Mr Perry, one of the proprietors of the hotel: "I am feeling much better than when I came I had seven hours of good sleep last night. I presume the coolness and purity he air have caused this-certainly there is an astonishing improvement in Mr. Gould's appearance was as apparen Munn, of New-York, who accompanis him, and who also occupies a cottage at the United States. Mr. Gould brought two carriages and his horses and coachman with from Tarrytown, and daily takes long drives around his daughters and himself take a drive in a buggy.

the Delaware and Hurison Railroad, ready for his use at any time, and people imagine that he may suddenly be The hotel proprietors hope that he will make a long isit to Saratoga, for his presence here seems to in to enjoy life during their vacations.

A tail, muscular man, with an Iron gray imperial and pointed gray chin whisters, entered the dining-room of the United States Hotel on Thursday, soon after Mr. Gould had left it. Business men of New-York looked other Giovanni Morosini's long service for Mr. Gould and his role as a sort of guardsman when infuriated shorn lambs were wandering about Wall Street with somewhat hostile intentions. Mr. Morosini came here, as is his companied by his wile and by one of his daughters.

The strangers have filled up the hotels this week so that now at least the big buildings are beginning to have a crowded appearance. The hotels were the last places to be affected by the wave of travel. The 400 boarding houses Saratoga first experienced its genial affects and they 800 guests, and is well up, therefore, toward its limit, as has but 917 rooms for guests. hotel proprietors known as " the height of the season," is fast approaching. As the season wanes the conventions will succeed one

The Republican State Convention will be held on August 28. As usual the Republican State Committee will make Congress Hall its headquarters. Clement, the proprietor of the hotel, says this will be met at his hotel. Congress Hall will also be the quarters of the Democratic League clubs, when they hold their State Convention here in Sepember. The Demo-State Convention. The people of Saratoga are confident that if the Democratic State Committee meets here for such a purpose it will recognize the charm of Saratoga and call the Democratic State Convention at this place.

Great preparations are being made just now for the holding of a midsummer festival on August 10 and 11. This is one of the many efforts which the young business men here are making to popularize Saratoga as a summer resort. In years past the money of the multitude, that is of that portion of the multitude which was not rich, was scorned. An attempt was made to have Saratoga exclusive, to have none but the wealthy here. The run-ning of chesp excursion trains by the railways was disuraged. Even horse racing was put in the backgr But this year has come a change in the policy. Now the railroads are advised to run as many excursion trains as possible, and to sell cheap tickets to this point and return. The railroad managers have responded to the suggestion, and have seen its benefit to their own treasuries as well as that of Saratoga. One of the features of this new excursion policy is that excursion trains are run from Airxny and Troy for those who desire to see the races. As a result of all those efforts baratoga has had a larger transfent population daily than ever before, and every one in the town has been benefited. The midsummer festival will be held in Courress Park, and a big crewd of strangers is anticipated. The New-York Central Railroad will sell a teket from New-York to Saratoga at that time for $5. So also will the Fitchburg Railroad, which now brings passongers from Boston here in seven hours. Excursion tables will be run from New-York and Boston to the festival. The festival will have as one of its features National dances in rich costumes. Thus there will be Dutch, Japanese, Tyrolean and Russian dances, a doil quadrille, a gypsy dance and a flower dance. ssible, and to sell cheap tickets to this point and return

The races have drawn hundreds of people here. The horse is really the hero of the hour. Half of Saratoga lays aside its work on race days at 11 o'clock and hurr'es to the race-track, where it remains until the end of the races at 3 o'clock.

Lord Chumley," the new play for E. H. Sethern, will be given the latter part of this month at the Lycoum Theatre. The exact date has not yet been fixed. Entirely new scenery is being prepared, and the rehearsals under the direction of the authors are being rapidly pushed to admit an early announcement of the date of production. In the meantime the regular Lyceum company is winning golden opinions in the West.

" Prince Methusalem" continues to prove so attractive at Wallack's that it now looks as if the opera could be ntinued for the balance of the season. Since the open ing performance there have been many additions to the work, the comedians growing more unctuous and funny as Messrs. HE EXPRESSES REGRET AT INABILITY TO ATTEND

THE CONVENTION OF FLORISTS. The florists and gardeners of the United States will hold a convention at Cooper Union, beginning on August 21. The delegates will be entertained by the New-York Florists' Club, whose principal officers are; John N. May, president; John H. Taylor, vice-president; W. S. Allen, secretary and A. D. Cowan, treas-The headquarters will be at the Fifth Avnue Hotel, where the reception committee will occupy the large hall room on the ground floor. A special vestibule train will leave Chicago on Monday, August 19, at 5 p. m., and is expected to arrive in this city the following evening at 10 o'clock. The convention will be called to order at 10 a. m. on Tuesday, by E. G. Hill, of Richmond, Ind., president of the Society of American Florists.

Colonel Elliot F. Shepard will deliver the address of welcome. The selection of Colonel Shepard to open the proceedings have given great satisfaction, speially West. It was expected that Levi P. Morton would take a prominent part in the opening ceremonies, but his numerous and pressing political engagements prevented his doing so. "The American Florist," which is the representative horticultural journal of the United States, published semi-monthly in Chicago, in its latest issue speaks of Mr. Morton and Colonel Shepard in connection with the coming convention, as follows: The Hon, Levi P. Morton made an earnest effort to fix his engagements to be present and take part in the open-ing ceremonies. His letter of regret is a warm and cere one, evincing his great interest in horticulture He owns three country establishments, and is one of the largest employers of garden and fancy farm help in the country. Colonel Elliot F. Shepard, Editor of "The Mail and Express," will deliver the address of welcome to the delegates at Cooper Union. He is one of the popular of New-York's disting riched citizens, and like his friend Depew, has an unlimited capacity for never shrinks from any task that has for its object the

A BIG PARADE ON LABOR DAY.

HOW THE COLUMN WILL BE FORMED AND WHERE IT WILL MARCH.

This is the year for parades, and a large one will be that on Labor Day, September 3. The parade will take place under the auspices of the Central Labor Union, which has oppointed a committee to make all arrangements for the casion. Outside organizations will join in the march and take part in the athletic games, which will be made a feature of the day and for which several valuable prizes and some minor ones will be offered. THE PEACH SEASON HERE.

GOOD FRUIT IN THE MARKET AND BETTER FRUIT COMING-A PEACH "COMBINE"

The peach season is now entered upon, and by August 10 there will be a good offering of Delaware and Maryland fruit. Fair grades of Troths, an honest variety, are coming forward; and Mountain Rose, a A distributive bureau better grade, will soon follow. has been formed in the peach districts, with the intent of protecting growers by regulating shipments to many points of consumption, and of saving commission expenses. Experienced dealers who know the rapidity with which this perishable product must be handled think the experiment will prove inoperative, as th time between trains is too brief to admit comprehensive, widespread wiring. Besides, many large growers have not joined the "combine," but will ship to New-York as heretofore, and risk a flooded market

A NEW RABBI AT THE GATES OF HOPE.

THE REV. DR. TAUBENHAUS PREACHES HIS FIRST SERMON-A DISCUSSION OF JUDAISM.

The Rev. Dr. Taubenhaus, formerly of Sacramento, Cal., delivered his opening sermon to the congregation of the Temple Gates of Hope, in East Eighty-sixth-st., vesterday. He spoke mainly about the creed of the Jewish Church, concluding with a reference to his duties and intentions in connection with the accept ance of the call. In the course of his sermon Rabbi Taubenhaus said:

Judaism merely points out what there is in th recesses of the human heart, like a candle light in a dark room, which will enable us to see the things that are there. The older a religion gets, the more difficult it is to under stand thoroughly, and the more study and sifting it re quires. As mankind marches onward in the path of history, the horizon of experience widens, science becomes more developed, knowledge increases; discoveries and inventions are multiplied, new theories are established which the old ones, and doctrines that have been implanted in the human mind as firm as rocks tremble at the arrival of doubt and suspicion. Consequently, no religion can remain for a very long time in its native purity and genuineness, and ceremonies and even precepts are added to it in time; for every generation has to solve its own problem, and thinks to solve it by adding ceremony ceremony and creed to creed.

Thus in time such a pile of ceremonies and ordinances accumulate around religion that the main truths are almost unnoticeable, and we have to dig deep to find divine truth. dangers, a religion that has gone through so many trials and dangers, a religion that has withstood the raging billows and storms of centuries, cannot be expected to be plain or transparent that everybody shall be able to see what it is made of. Explanation and perutiny often lead to an idolatrous attachment to ceremony or the abominable indifference to everything that is sacred. It a fact, grievous and deplorable, that in our own day there are many who cling tenaciously to ceremonies as if their whele salvation depended upon them. On the other hand, we find many who look upon all religion as folly and degradation. It is a fact that some of our so-called strictly orthodox act like children, who throw away the jewel and like to retain the box that was made for no other purpose than to protect the jewel.

But everything in its own sphere. It is not meant that everybody should six in the shade of theology and spend all his days in meditation. We are so arranged that we cannot do all kinds of work. One does this kind of work and another does another kind of work, and every one is benefited more or less. But religion must have a voice and must have a pulpit that will point out that which is essential in Judaism. Religion must have a pulpit which will rehearse the grand history of our religlose the secret of the superiority of Judaism over all other creeds.

THE MISSING KIMPTON FAMILY.

IT IS NOW SUPPOSED TO BE IN CALIFORNIA-

MANY DERTS UNPAID. A rather feasible explanation of the cause of the sudden disappearance of the Kimpton family was made yes-terday, and by many it is accepted as the correct solution of the case. It seems that Kimpton has for many years been desirous of going to California to live. But he pretended to change his mind and decided to settle down in Brooklyn, where the family last lived at No. 112 Nimrod-Over a year ago Mr. Kimpton bought a building lot in Sachman-st. in Fast New-York, for $275, on which he He began to build a house, obtained a mortgage of $300. getting for this purpose from a loan asseiation $700, and on the day after the family disappeared, he was to pay his amount to a builder. The family disappeared some time between June 17 and July 1, but the brother of Brunt, John Von Giahn, Mrs. G. Verhaeren, Miss Clathe head of the family, John Kimpton, of No. 264 Centual age, did not report the matter to the rolled Wayre, Mrs. Z. P. Vose, Miss A. B. ABOVE AN AVERAGE CEOP IN MINNESOTA.

St. Paul, Aug. 4.-Reports have been received within a day or two from almost every part of Minnesota and Dakata. The heat, coupled with heavy rains, has caused rust and blight. The rust has not only attacked wheat at many new points, but the other small grains are suffering from it. Chinch bugs are reported in a few places, and the army worm has made its an pearance at two or three points. The extent of the damage from these causes cannot at present be estimated, but it is believed that there will be left more than an average crop for the harvest. PROFESSOR OTTO SCHMIDT KILLED BY HEAT.

Illinois, Indiana and Iowa report the heat of vesterday as intense. There were many prostrations and several deaths. In this city Wednesday's temperature was repeated and several persons prostrated.

At Evansville, Ind., three men were killed by sunstroke, among them Professor Otto Schmidt, well known in musical circles in St. Louis, Fort Wayne, Buffalo and elsewhere. THE SUMMER VOYAGERS
